Venus gets European patent

Chandigarh, June 3

Drug major Venus Remedies said its research arm Venus Medicine Research Centre has received patent for its antibiotic product 'VRP008' from European Patent Office (EPO). The product is designed for mixed multi-drug infections for pediatric, geriatric and adult-immuno-compromised patients where the risk of adverse events is high and very low amount of doses are required, Panchkula-based company said in a statement issued here. "Once launched, VRP008 (research code for this Antibiotic Adjuvant Entity) will be one of the best solutions for ICU infections," said Manu Chaudhary, Joint Managing Director cum Director Research, Venus Remedies Ltd.
